

INFO PACK

for project „YOUth combating radicalisation”

10 April 2019– 19 April 2019

Bansko, Bulgaria

SUMMARY OF THE PROJECT

Europe and European societies have faced numerous and complex security challenges over the last few years, caused by diverse internal and external factors. Along with migratory flows, the threat of radicalism and terrorism is becoming more and more tangible. In addition, in Europe, more and more young people are involved in extremist movements in the search for identity and their place in society. Some of the attacks were committed by young people who grew up in Europe and attended European schools. Deep feelings of injustice and frustration, such as lack of belonging and sense of social exclusion, are among the main causes that contribute to the vulnerability of young people and increase their readiness to join extremist groups that offer a seemingly social purpose for them. Moreover, with the refugee crisis of the past few years, the number of extremist right-wing groups and nationalist parties has increased in Europe, leading to the creation of conditions for instability of European values - human rights, diversity, tolerance and solidarity. In this context, the danger of radicalism among young people is growing tremendously, and this topic is not covered enough in public. Our team believes in the potential of non-formal education and Erasmus + specifically through investing in human rights education, informing and empowering young people, and popularizing European values to reduce the risk of radicalization of young people. Participants will discuss topics such as stereotypes, prejudices, xenophobia, racism, discrimination, and how they can lead to social exclusion of young people and hence increase the risk of radicalization, the role of social media, and the language of hatred to fuel extremist behavior.

Main objectives of the project:

- Raising awareness of the subject of extremism and radicalization of young people and awareness of the key causes and factors leading to them
- Awareness of the role of social media as a channel for the spread of hate speech extremist ideologies and encouraging media literacy among young people
- promoting youth activism and awareness of the role of youth role in the prevention of radicalization
- promoting the European values of democracy, respect for human rights, diversity, intercultural dialogue
